QUALITY IS THE FIRST CONSIDERATION
IN BUYING A WATCH.

When a man gets a watch he wants a good one, and one that will last a lifetime and always be on the dot. The complexity of modern civilization makes it often a matter of money and sometimes of life and death, that people should be on time.

REGINA WATCHES

Are designed to meet the demand for accurate and durable time pieces—and they do. No detail of their construction has been left open to criticism—in fact they are made a little better than seems necessary. But merit will win in the long run, and Regina Watches, being universally guaranteed, will stand the test of time. Come in and let us tell you more about them.

Horticultural Society Hold First Show Today

The Red Deer Horticultural Society will hold their first annual show in the Alberta Garage today. The chief judges will be Mr. Burrows, of Calgary, and Mr. Hutton, of Lacombe. The band will be in attendance in the evening, and a programme will be presented, consisting of the presentation of the Snell shield and special prizes, and a short illustrated address by Mr. Burrows on practical advice on local conditions of care and growth as shown by the exhibit. Campbell Bros., of Calgary, and Ramsay's, of Edmonton, will give a special display of greenhouse plants and flowers, not for competition.

There are a gratifying number of entries and promises of exhibits for the first show, and the Society deserve the hearty support of the citizens.

Gaetz Mfg. Co. Making Large Extensions

The Gaetz Manufacturing Co. have instructed Mr. C. A. John, architect, to get out plans for the extension and doubling of their factory building on the corner of First Avenue East and First Street North. Tenders will be called for at once. The addition will be two stories and basement, uniform with their present factory, and will carry their present building back to the lane, giving them double their present accommodation and providing factory and warehouse room for the rapidly extending business and agencies. The citizens will be very glad to hear of the contemplated great enlargement of the business.

Last Shoot of Season

The Red Deer Gun Club held the last shoot of the season on Monday afternoon, when the following scores were made:

Event No. 1, class B, 20 birds—1st, Chapman, 14 birds; 2nd, Mann, 14 birds; 3rd, D. Smith, 13 birds. Chapman and Mann shot off the tie, Chapman winning.

Event No. 2, championship shoot for the Club Cup, 25 birds—1st, F. Lund, 22 birds; 2nd, Dr. Plaxton, 22 birds; 3rd, Mr. R. Davis, 21 birds. Lund and Plaxton shot off the tie, Lund winning.

Event No. 3, team shoot, to decide who pays for the supper in October—1st, Plaxton's team, 38; 2nd, R. L. Gaetz' team, 35; 3rd, Parker's team, 31.

Event 4, doubles for the Alfred medal—1st, Plaxton, 14; 2nd, Lund, 14; 3rd, Stephenson, 12. Plaxton and Lund shot off their second tie for the afternoon, resulting in a win for Plaxton.

Cyclone Sweeps North Dakota

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.—Winnipeg was struck tonight by the tail end of a storm, by vivid lightning and heavy rain, which apparently has swept over some of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, doing damage in varying degrees in those localities and apparently most severe along the international boundary line. It is reported from Perdue, Sask., and from buildings were demolished at Elmore, Sask., with one person fatally injured. Further south, in North Dakota, conditions appear to have been worse and reports indicate a cyclone with many fatalities. The extent of the damage probably will not be known until tomorrow as the downpour and wind storms arrested telegraph lines all over the prairie west, business being considerably delayed and suspended altogether on some branch lines. From reports gathered by telephone, however, it appears that crop damage was confined to isolated localities and in no way was general. After a steaming, hot, muggy day, the rain was welcomed in this city.

No Other Names Introduced

Friday last the Liberal convention held in Red Deer was unanimous in so far as nominating Dr. Michael Clark was concerned, there being no other name brought forward at the convention.

There were, it is claimed, 150 delegates present, although there did not seem to be so many. Of this number no less than 85 delegates were from Olds, while there were other Olds men representing Horse Shoe Lake and other points, which was of itself sufficient to swamp any other candidate's chances.

Dr. Clark, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Mr. Puffer, M.P.P., J. Simpson, M.P.P., and Mayor R. B. Welliver made short addresses.

There was not, however, that unanimous feeling in the meeting the reports would lead one to believe there was. One northern delegate was heard to remark that the other fellows had succeeded in nominating Dr. Clark, now they (the kickers) would proceed to defeat him at the polls.

Rutherford Challenges Frank Oliver

Edmonton, Aug. 19.—A. C. Rutherford, late premier, last evening issued a challenge to Hon. Frank Oliver to have both their bank accounts submitted to a judge of the supreme court for examination. This challenge is the outcome of a statement by the Hon. Frank Oliver to the effect that he understood Mr. Rutherford had a bank account bigger than the $60,000 of his much-talked-of-one, and he suggested that it should be thrown open to the public.

Mines Are Not Yet Opened

Fernie, B.C., Aug. 21.—The opening of the Coal Creek mines which was reported to take place today, didn't materialize. The train which was to take the miners from Fernie every morning at 7.30 was closely watched by some miners, but not more than the usual number of men kept at work since the mines were closed went up today. Miners were on hand at Coal Creek when the train arrived there to take note of any additional arrivals, but there was none to be seen. A visit to the mines this evening by a press representative revealed a perfect suspension of everything except game of quoits being pitched by some miners.

Half a dozen provincial policemen were loitering about the little jail who reported nothing doing. Superintendent of Provincial Police, Colin Campbell, of Victoria, arrived in Fernie last night. These police arrangements indicate that an effort to reopen the mines is due in a short time. Coal still continues to come down from Corbin but no other mine is known to be in operation except the Passburg collieries, where a few men were reported to be working last week.

A despatch from Lettbridge shows that only a very few men are at work and that several of the men brought in by the operators have joined the union.

School Opens Next Monday

The schools will reopen next Monday, August 25th, when the changes lately made by the Department of Education in the system of grading will come into force. Standard VII is now grades IX and X. Standard VIII is now grade XI, and Standard VII is now grade XII. A number of changes have also been made in textbooks.

The Gaetz-Cornett Co. have made ample preparation for school opening, and have a full line of the necessary textbooks and supplies of all kinds. A price list will be sent to any address on request.

John Herron Opens Campaign at Macleod

Macleod, Alta., Aug. 19.—John Herron, Conservative candidate for the Macleod constituency, opened his campaign here this evening, though owing to lack of advertising and the short notice of the meeting, it was not as well attended as it might have been. The hall was specially decorated for the meeting, and D. J. Grier acted as chairman. Mr. Herron did all of the speaking of the evening. This being the first meeting of the campaign in Macleod it was interesting. There were no interruptions. Mr. Herron during his speech received much applause from the audience.

Dr. Warnock held a short meeting at Spring Point.

Trusts Will Own Canada

Mr. Mackenzie King advocates reciprocity as a means of delivering Canada from the monopolists. But in the agreement not certain to place the whole country in the hands of the grossest capitalistic combination that ever oppressed one nation and wanted to oppress another. The compact merely adds the Dominion to the domain of the American trust. Sir Allen Aylesworth proclaims reciprocity to be in the interests of the Canadian people. But is it in their interests to subject them to the rule of a great series of foreign trusts whose whole policy is to squeeze out lesser rivals, and then (having got the entire field to themselves) to force the prices they pay to producers downwards and the prices they pay to consumers upwards.

A Western Protest

To the Editor of The News.
We have had reciprocity in currency with the United States for years.

In Canada, United States currency is taken everywhere at face value. Anywhere in the United States twenty miles from the border a discount of from 5 per cent. to 20 per cent. is demanded on Canadian money, our twenty-five cent piece being usually valued at 30 cents, and a five-dollar bill at $4.75.

A reading of Canadian history will show that any reciprocity we have had with them worked out on the same standard of reciprocity. How have 'deals' we have had with the United States I don't know. But I would like to have one pointed out to me that worked out in a fair manner to both countries.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier seems to have lost a great deal of that national pride that he once boasted of. Or was it simply that the "grapes were sour" that he made many public statements a few years ago that Canada would at no time in the future seek reciprocal trade relations with the United States?

Or is it that the United States are just proving Lincoln's saying: "That you can fool some people all the time"—over and over again? Don't believe it when they tell you the West is solid for reciprocity. It isn't.

Personally, I feel proud of myself for being a Canadian. I feel that we have that power within ourselves to develop into a great and prosperous nation.

I feel, however, that our government has humbled itself—judged simply on its own past statements—in going to Washington, after the national rebukes we have had.

For three elections I have voted for the Government. Next election I vote against them on account of reciprocity.

Laurier On Reciprocity

In 1899
"If we know the hearts and minds of our people at present, I think I am not making too much of a statement when I say that the general feeling of Canada is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians would have given many things to obtain the American market. There was a time when the market of the great cities of Upland was the only market we had, but these days are past and over now. We are not dependent on the American market now."

In 1904.
"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside. We have said goodbye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

Hot Times in Quebec

An attempt made by Mr. Adelard Lanctot, at Sorel, Que., to address the electors resulted in a small riot. The outcome of the whole matter was that at a later meeting, which the former member did not attend, Mr. Carlin, his rival for Liberal honors, secured 41 votes to Mr. Lanctot's 34, which is taken to mean that the riding does not want any more of Mr. Lanctot. The trouble started early in the meeting, which was held in the town's public square. In fact, the noise was so great from the outset that Mr. Lanctot's words were raised only in snatches. The uproar increased until finally the two thousand people were merely a mass of confusion. The upshot was that Mr. Lanctot had to abandon the attempt to address the electors. As he came away from the platform the mass of people moved toward him and there was a well defined rush on the former member. He was forced to flee as best he could through the throng. Cries of "We are going to clean house now," "No more scandals," rent the air. It was evident that the housecleaning affair and the subsequent whitewashing by the Government was at the bottom of the affair. Mr. Lanctot was not safe until he had secured police protection, after hastening up a side street.

The road east from the exhibition grounds has been fixed up splendidly, but the farmers are mad as hatters as a stream of automobiles take to the road and frighten their horses.

A lot of building is being done in North Red Deer these days, and considerable improvements are being carried out by the Council, such as new sidewalks, street grading, etc., etc.

Rev. H. E. Gordon is now in the field organizing for the local option campaign which is being brought on by the Moral Reform League. We understand that the Rev. Mr. Fortune has retired from the Field Secretaryship, and has been succeeded by Mr. Gordon. If the change is as reported, the Moral Reform has made a good move, as with Mr. Fortune guiding the fight the result would doubtless be disastrous to the temperance cause. Mr. Gordon is a man who has the complete confidence of everyone who has come in contact with him.—Lacumbe Globe.

Accident

What might have been a bad accident happened to George W. Smith and his son Percy last Thursday. They were driving to the station to catch the south train and, when turning the corner at Ross Ave. and Gaetz Ave., the buggy overturned, throwing them out. Mr. Smith was thrown clear and was unhurt, but Percy sustained a few bad scratches on account of being dragged by the horse, which he succeeded in stopping.

MI-O-NA

Relieves Stomach Misery Almost Immediately.

If the food you ate at your last meal did not digest, but laid for a long time like lead on your stomach, then you have indigestion and quick action should be taken.

Of course there are many other symptoms of indigestion, such as belching up of sour food, heartburn, dizziness, shortness of breath and foul breath, and if you have any of them, your stomach is out of order and should be corrected.

Mi-o-na tablets have cured thousands of cases of indigestion and stomach trouble. If you have any stomach distress, Mi-o-na will relieve instantly.

Bad Mi-o-na unlike most so-called dyspepsia remedies, does more than relieve; it permanently cures dyspepsia or any stomach trouble by putting energy and strength into the walls of the stomach, where the gastric juices are produced.

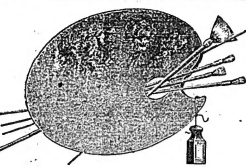

A large box of Mi-o-na tablets costs but 50 cents at Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Store, and are guaranteed to cure or money back. When others fail, Mi-o-na cures. It is a producer of flesh when the body is thin; it cleanses the stomach and bowels; purifies the blood and makes rich red blood.

The News

RED DEER - ALBERTA
PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING

JNO. A. CARSWELL, Editor and Proprietor
ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23rd, 1911.
THE ADVOCATE ABSURDITIES.

Our jovial friend on Mann Street has repeated the statement that the News was in favor of reciprocity in 1908. When the statement was first made we branded it as a lie. After quoting voluminously from the News of that date the Advocate has failed to show one single instance where we favored reciprocity. It was never thought of then except by a few rank commercial union free traders of the Advocate editor stamp, who at the same time were stating that the tariff question was outside party politics as both political parties were the same on the tariff.

The Advocate repeats the statement, and we again brand it as false, and the man who makes it as a liar, and say he is a mischievous falsifier of facts and a distorter of simple statements, and the truth is not in him.

A man who will take a paper and cut a few words from an article to make it appear just the opposite to what was intended, is a dangerous man in any community. The Advocate man is an adept at this kind of thing.

In 1908 the News backed up Mr. Root as a cattle man because the editor of the News, as an old cattle man himself, knew what he was talking about. At that time cattle prices were low in Alberta and high in Chicago. And we wanted better markets for our cattle. But that doesn't say we favored reciprocity. To-day all that has changed. We have better cattle prices in Alberta than they have in Chicago, all things considered, and business is looking better every day. We now have a big Swift packing plant at Edmonton, and a Burns' cold storage and plant at Calgary. We have Burns about to build an opposition packing plant at Edmonton, and the Morris Bros. about to erect a $3,000,000 plant at Calgary. We have the markets now at home, and still the Advocate opposed Mr. Root tooth and nail then and it would oppose him now, no matter what his policy might be, unless he was a Grit candidate, then he would receive the full support of this political Jehu.

It is only necessary to peruse one issue of the Advocate to show up its inconsistency. The editor always answers himself in his own paper. Under the heading "How the farmer is hit," he says: "Alberta imports 75 per cent. of her consumption of bacon products it may be, but the local pork packing establishments take care that the Alberta farmer does not get the price he should get and which he would get were the Alberta markets not 'canned up.'"

Study this precious statement. Seventy-five per cent. of our bacon is now shipped in from the U. S. with the duty on. We would, however, get a bigger price if the duty was taken off. Could a more idiotically absurd statement be made by a sane man?

Then, to cap the climax, the Advocate in the same article actually compares the price of pork in Winnipeg and in Edmonton as an argument why we should have reciprocity, and says because Winnipeg pays a cent a pound more, that "it is some relief from such business as this that the farmers will get in the freer and larger market. They only ask a fair show."

The Advocate seems to think the farmers are not sane, intelligent thinking men by dishing up such twaddle.

The Advocate is the laughing stock of the average farmer.

ALBERTA ALRIGHT.

Never in the history of the province has there been such a splendid array of men standing for the principles of the grand old Conservative party as in the present campaign in Alberta.

In the last campaign Alberta only elected three Conservative members to the House of Commons.

This election we stand a splendid chance of electing six.

R. B. Bennett is absolutely sure of election in Calgary.

Huron and Magrath can not be beaten.

"Billy" Griesbach, the stalwart young warrior in Edmonton, stands a grand chance of election, and many Liberals even concede the seat to him, as ex-premier Rutherford is running against Hon. Frank Oliver, and the Liberal party is hopelessly mixed.

Morrison, in Victoria, will win, is the general verdict there, as White, the Liberal candidate, is opposed by an independent farmer.

Finally McGillivray, in Red Deer, is putting up the fight of his life, and stands a good chance of winning out. Clark's majority was only a little over two hundred last time, and that can easily be overcome.

A large number of farmers are opposing reciprocity as they can not possibly see anything in it. The Americans are giving us everything we don't want to buy from them free, and want from us free everything they would have to buy from us anyway.

The farmers see through the dodge and are voting for McGillivray.

OF VAST IMPERIAL IMPORT.

The suggestion may not commend itself to untrodden English readers, but we are none the less of opinion that the Canadian crisis is one of far-reaching and momentous import for the English as a whole than the constitutional crisis at home. We believe this because, if the Home Parliament takes a false step with regard to the constitution, we believe their mistake would not go for long uncorrected. If Canada blunders in the matter of her relations with a power outside the Empire, that false step might well prove irrevocable. Measures involving the business relations of nations occupying the continent may not easily be revoked. Their effects are too complex and far-reaching. The United States are eager for the pact. Their leaders say it will greatly serve their interests by preventing all-British commercial union. The decision rests with the people of British North America—The London, Eng., Standard of Empire.

SOME WELL GROUNDED FEARS.

The Minneapolis Journal fears that Canada would supply English needs, taking away American trade if reciprocity failed to pass. That journal says:

"Today England is our best customer, and Canada is our third best customer. But our foreign trade wanes, and that of Canada grows. If we push Canada into England's arms, the trade arrangements between the two will tend more and more to shut us out."

"How long will our trade with these two customers last if reciprocity fails? Our Canadian trade must fall off, as the east and west channels of her commerce are secured by use. And Canada will more and more supply English needs in our stead."

FORMER LIBERAL PREMIER AGAINST.

We have also to bear in mind another consideration. There still slumber in the minds of leading Americans, the idea that Canada will sooner or later, either from choice or necessity, become annexed to the United States. From address by Sir Geo. W. Ross before the Toronto Board of Trade, November 3rd, 1910.

IE SM
THE OR

Arthur L. Powne, of Erskine, fires some hot shot into the reciprocity camp, in another column, and Arthur knows what he is talking about, which is more than the Advocate and some of the Grit orators know when they are talking on this important question.

The more the reciprocity treaty is examined, and the more clearly the annexation sentiment of the United States is realized in Canada, the worse is the political outlook for the Laurier Government. After fifteen years of continuous power the Laurier party is ready to fall to pieces from natural decay, and this is the last fatal jump for power, and they are going to fall short by about 20 members on Sept. 21st.

We are informed by Dr. Clark and other reciprocity orators that the people should vote for reciprocity to get away from the awful Canadian monopolists. What a farce. Why the reciprocity agreement once passed, Canada would be in the hands of the greatest capitalistic combination that ever controlled a nation. The United States today groans under the mighty trusts that eat at her vitals, and every American in Alberta knows it, many of them coming to Canada to get away from this awful state of affairs.

PRACTICAL POLITICS.

Farmers in this province are led to believe by Premier Sifton and other reciprocity orators that the market for their products is so poor that they need reciprocity to give them the "wider" market of the United States.

Less than two months ago the minister of agriculture announced he could not buy the horses in this province with which to work the demonstration farms.

So he spent two or three weeks trying to round up a few horses in the province of Ontario, but could not secure enough horses with which properly to work one demonstration farm.

At the same time the provincial secretary accompanied the minister of agriculture to Ontario to buy cows for the asylum at Ponoka.

Assisted by the superintendent of demonstration farms, these Alberta officials were unable to buy in the province of Ontario the stock which they could not buy in this province. Every farmer had a market for that which he had to sell.

And yet the premier of Alberta, the minister of agriculture and the provincial secretary claim the farmers are such desperate need of a market they must have reciprocity.—Edmonton Journal.

Complicated Politics in Quebec Province

Crossed Planks on Many Platforms—Montreal Plans Warm Welcome for Togo.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The days when a voter in the Province of Quebec could signify his party politics by the use of one or two words have slipped far far back on the calendar, and the present campaign has opened here with the customary "rouge" or "bleu" explanation of the habitué, political inclinations meaning naught. Instead, when a man in the back parishes wants to tell you his sentiments he takes him a long time. Never have the farm dwellers been so well posted on the questions of the hour as they are at the opening of this campaign. Last election and the election before a man said he was rouge or bleu and let it go at that. Ask him why and he invariably replied with a shrug: "Sans pas" or "je" because, or else "my father he rouge too."

Ask a back country Frenchman to-day what his politics are and he'll sit down and argue with you for half a day. He's educated and educated up to the minute. One is for Laurier but against the navy, another for Laurier but against reciprocity. He'll tell you why and all about it. Some diversified forecasts have been made as to how the results will tally up in solid Quebec. How near right any of them may be, is, of course, the question. One thing is certain, taking it all in all, will be a less important vote be cast.

ADMIRAL TOGO COMING.

Admiral Togo, the distinguished Japanese, will be the guest of the city of Montreal Monday, August 21. His Excellency will arrive from Buffalo on Monday morning, and will be escorted to the Sailors' Institute, where the Canadian Club will send him a luncheon, which promises to be unusually magnificent. Monday evening, the distinguished cruiser will entertain for Vancouver with his suite. He will be accompanied to Montreal by Commander Taniguchi, and their secretaries and aides.

The Imperial Consul-General of Japan will come down from Ottawa to meet the Admiral and the Consul. Nakamura will speak at the luncheon. Court Togo, however, will not make a speech, as his knowledge of English, though fair, makes him hesitate to speak in public.

Ekville

Miss Richardson and Miss Matchett spent last week at Sylvan Lake. School has now re-opened after a short vacation.

O. M. Forham was in Edmonton last week.

Mr. B. A. Grant of Evans preached here last Sunday. Mr. Grant will shortly leave the district for other fields of work.

The farmers in the Ekville district who have been experimenting with alfalfa are well satisfied with the results obtained. They have proved that a successful crop of this money-maker can be raised, which greatly increases the value of the land.

Another week of warm weather and the binders will be at work.

THE RECIPROCITY ISSUE.

Dear Sir—As one who, after spending between five and ten years in Canada, has toured a great part of the empire, may I offer a few remarks on the above issue?

To one viewing the struggle valmly from a distance it seems that Canada, if she endorses reciprocity, will be hastening her future greatness (as predominant partner in the greatest empire the world has seen) for a mess of pottage.

She will indeed become the backdoor of the United States.

She will simply "exist" to supply the needs of the States with raw material.

Let her not forsake the path of her great prosperity during the last decade for this.

The farmers want cheaper machinery. They can get it not by binding themselves hand and foot to the States, but by demanding a greater reduction on machinery from Great Britain. If they knock off fifteen per cent. of the duty on British agricultural machinery, the Canadian manufacturer will reduce his price to that extent. If they want a greater reduction, let them ask for it, all tending towards keeping the trade within the empire. It is more important to foster the trade within the Empire than with one country outside it, for the Empire trade is only in its infancy. The United States have nearly reached the limit of their production.

Canadians are told they are getting a snap. A glance at the map of B.C. and New Brunswick will show that in dealing with the States Canada has always got the "thin end." So let her beware.

Canadian and British farmers will probably vote as a whole against reciprocity, and many American farmers, now that they have had time to consider it, are cooling off quite considerably.

"OBSERVER."

THE ADVOCATE IS SO DULL. Editor "News," Red Deer, Alta.

Dear Sir—I quite agree with the "Advocate" that Mr. Root advocated better markets for the Alberta cattle; and the organization of the Central Alberta Stock Growers' Association was formed for that reason, and their efforts had something to do with the splendid condition of the cattle market at present. But Mr. Root and myself are not to blame because the "Advocate" is so dull and inactive to the advancements of Canada, that it has not followed the advancements of all farm products.

In the spring of 1908 I sold three hundred head beef steers for $3.65 per hundred, giving a five per cent. shrinkage. The same cattle this summer would have brought $6.50 per cwt. straight weight, practically a hundred per cent. more money.

Therefore Mr. Root was not very far astray when he claimed that buyers would not give within 25 or 50 per cent. of adequate prices.

The Alberta cattle, to have gone to Chicago this spring even without the duty, would have meant a loss to any shipper of twenty dollars per head. So why the need of reciprocity?

I will quote Sir Wilfrid Laurier for myself: "Canada today is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians beginning with myself would have given many things to have obtained the American market, but, thank Heaven, those days are passed and over."

It would be to the credit of all the Liberal press if they would compare the markets of all Canadian products with the markets in the United States at the present time, instead of going back even ten, twenty or thirty years; but they cannot show any just or sufficient causes why Canadians would be better off with reciprocity. All they think about is having control of power, even to the detriment of the growth of all cities and towns and farmers.

Everything on the farm is more valuable in Canada than in the United States.

When farm products have increased 35 per cent. within the last decade, and what the farmers buy only increased 14 per cent., why change the country's policy of protection, when the nation is prosperous, for reciprocal trade with the United States, a foreign country, which exports everything that the Canadian farmer raises. I am surprised any business men in our towns and cities voting for reciprocity. Taking Red Deer for an example: If you ever expect to become a large and prosperous city, it will be by encouraging industries to establish in Red Deer, and not by building up and giving the large corporations and trusts of a foreign country the control of your natural productions.

What does the Northwestern Miller of Minneapolis, the recognized flour journal of America, say: "The miller who is able to grind this enormous Canadian crop will be the miller of the future, and where he is, there will be the great mills of the world." Better for the Canadian people to take less for their wheat than build up the cities and seaports of the United States at the expense of their own farms by losing all the by-products of their grain.

Canada will never have a Minneapolis or Chicago with reciprocity; but by following her sound and prosperous policy, she will soon boast of these cities, but you cannot build a nation in a day.

If the anti-reciprocity candidate for this riding is elected, as we expect him to be, it will be through the support of American farmers who have emigrated from that country to Canada and recognize the advantages of the sound business principles of this country over that of our Southern neighbors.

THE W. E. LORD COMPANY, LIMITED

The Liberal government, and for that reason he asks you to support rectitude, and yet you are aware that since 1896, when the Liberal government came into power, they have used and swallowed in whole the tariff of the Conservative party, and that progress of which he speaks with such pride is a result of the Conservative tariff in this country, and it is that tariff which he asks you to set aside and take a chance on that prosperity which has been yours.

The prosperity of our country has been due to our fertile lands, the sunshine which the good God has bestowed upon us.

WIDER MARKETS.

The chief argument in favor of the agreement is that we will have wider markets. We are having a wider market with a country that produces a surplus of nearly every commodity that we in Canada have to export, and which consumes in the sale of their goods with Canada in every market of the world. Great Britain is today our biggest customer, and it is an indisputable fact that the United States is Canada's strongest competitor both at home and abroad. Not only have you not had an opportunity of going thoroughly into this question, but that this government which asks you to pass on it, and Messrs. Fielding and Patterson, the chief promoters thereof, have no knowledge whatsoever by inquiry or through reports from statisticians of their own bearing upon this most important issue which is before the people. The United States on the other hand had a senate report made with great care and higher exactness than any report made before the people before they dealt with it, and that all-important question, and in this report made by the people with whom we are dealing that the Liberal government go for the information which they lay before you.

WHEAT PRICES.

Now we are told that the price of wheat south of the boundary line between the Great Lakes and the Rocky Mountains is higher in the United States than in Canada, but it is a significant fact that so soon as this agreement was mooted the price at Winnipeg was higher than the price at Minneapolis. That the price of wheat at Minneapolis should be higher than at Winnipeg under present conditions is a very important matter to explain. There is a demand for certain grades of wheat by the millers of Minneapolis, that is to say, hard wheat, which makes it necessary for the millers at Minneapolis to bonus that wheat to keep it from being exported out of the country. You will find that practically no hard wheat is shipped from the United States, but that the whole product is used for mixing with softer wheat in order to turn out the standard grade of flour which they do from year to year, and that is the reason why, on a certain class of hard wheat, the relative price is higher at Minneapolis than at Liverpool. But so soon as $9,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were thrown on the Minneapolis market there would be no reason in the world why the Minneapolis millers should bond the American hard wheat to keep it in the country, why they should pay the original price for the Canadian hard wheat. We know that at present the price is a surplus to export, the purchase price by the millers would get down to the export price, and would of necessity be governed by the Liverpool market, the clearing house of the world. Once the wheat production of the two countries is pooled the total surplus for export would be over 200,000,000 bushels. Is it not absurd then to suppose that the price at Minneapolis will maintain the advantage over Liverpool which it enjoys today? What you are doing is bringing about something which will make happy the Minneapolis miller, but will not put a cent in the pockets of the farmer.

U.S. WHEAT PRODUCTION.

It is argued that although the United States today produce more wheat than they consume, it does not necessarily follow that the time will not come when the United States will not produce a sufficient food supply for its own population. And what is the answer to this? We look for information, and we go back to the senate report, and it disproves the possibility of this view being the correct one. It was proved to the satisfaction of the United States senate that the agricultural area of the United States is sufficient to produce a food supply for at least 400,000,000 and possibly 800,000,000 people.

LIVERPOOL CLEARING HOUSE. Liverpool is the clearing house of the world for wheat. The price at the centre of trade is governed by supply and demand. If the United States or any other wheat raising country by reason of a crop failure was short, say 25,000,000 bushels of wheat, this would affect the world's supply and naturally raise the price at the world's centre of trade. But would it increase the price to the Canadian farmer? The United States would be free to buy in any market in the world, and the Canadians would certainly get an increased price for their wheat, but only that same increased price which they could get at any market in the world. Consequently, the removal of the tariff wall would not in the slightest degree affect the price for Canadian wheat. Last year the United States exported about 114,000,000 bushels of wheat. Now they get a fixed price for their wheat according to the Liverpool market. Canada gets the same price for her wheat. Is it not absurd then to say that it is desirable that we should go to the further transportation expense of shipping into the United States and having the United States people ship it through their ports to the same destination at the same market price?

A HIGHER PRICE.

Why, if we are to get no better price, should we ship our grain to the markets of the United States there to be converted into flour by the millers of the United States? Why should not we in Western Canada have the benefit of the great mills, the mills which will be the greatest in the world, which will grind our Canadian wheat into flour. Is there any reason why this work should be done by millers in Minneapolis or in other parts of the United States rather than in Western Canada, with labor employed in Western Canada, with men who will spend their money in Western Canada? Is there any reason why these mills should not be situated so that the farmers in Western Canada might have advantage of the by-products which will be available to the farmer of the United States rather than the farmer of Canada, helping to preserve the land in the United States to the detriment of our own?

You must consider that we pay a further price. We pay the price of admission to our markets of the farmers of Argentina, Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Columbia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela. We pay for these countries are today large exporters of animal and agricultural products which are produced in this country. Under this agreement they are entitled to the same right of entry to our markets as is given to the farmers of the United States. This right they get under rates which contain a clause known as a favored nation clause, but the United States markets are not open to them. We compete with the world, including the United States, while they compete with us and give us nothing in return. In addition to this it must be remembered that our markets are open to the producers throughout the British Empire. That these favored nations will enter into actual competition with us is not hard to believe when we find that nine of them have a combined production of 1,200,000,000 bushels of wheat.

DECEIVED AND DELUDED.

As I have said, the Canadian farmer has been deceived and deluded, because the American millers are paying a higher price for hard wheat for the purpose of manufacturing flour, but once that market is glutted with wheat there is no object in the world why they bonus the hard wheat in order to keep it from being exported. You are down to the market price at the centre of the world's trade, which is governed by supply and demand, and the removal of your tariff cannot possibly give you an increase in price in this particular commodity.

Before leaving the economic side of this reciprocity question I would point out that the United States tariff if proposed by them in connection with this agreement is a very important matter to explain. There is a demand for certain grades of wheat by the millers of Minneapolis, that is to say, hard wheat, which makes it necessary for the millers at Minneapolis to bonus that wheat to keep it from being exported out of the country. You will find that practically no hard wheat is shipped from the United States, but that the whole product is used for mixing with softer wheat in order to turn out the standard grade of flour which they do from year to year, and that is the reason why, on a certain class of hard wheat, the relative price is higher at Minneapolis than at Liverpool. But so soon as $9,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were thrown on the Minneapolis market there would be no reason in the world why the Minneapolis millers should bond the American hard wheat to keep it in the country, why they should pay the original price for the Canadian hard wheat. We know that at present the price is a surplus to export, the purchase price by the millers would get down to the export price, and would of necessity be governed by the Liverpool market, the clearing house of the world. Once the wheat production of the two countries is pooled the total surplus for export would be over 200,000,000 bushels. Is it not absurd then to suppose that the price at Minneapolis will maintain the advantage over Liverpool which it enjoys today? What you are doing is bringing about something which will make happy the Minneapolis miller, but will not put a cent in the pockets of the farmer.

ECONOMIC SIDE.

Another matter in connection with this agreement is the fact that the western farmers went down to Ottawa, and asked for free agricultural implements. They were told that the government would not do this. Now, let us see what the result is. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but did they I ask you, gentlemen, give you free agricultural implements? No, in place of free agricultural implements we are offered free corn, oats, barley, feed and so forth. Under this proposed agreement the tariff on feeders, ranging from 10 to 25 per cent, in short, a few cents on every agricultural implement which you are asked to buy. The west will pay duty on what it buys and what the farmer needs, but they will have no protection in the market in which it sells. Now, let us see what the result is. The west will let the government be the friend of the farmer. What you want is duty off your agricultural implements. You can get the same price in the markets of the world for the products that you sell as you can from the United States.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. Mr. Borden, in a speech in the house of commons on November 21, 1910, said with regard to agricultural implements, and speaking of the claims of the west: "The farmers of the west say that they ought to have a lower duty on agricultural implements, that they are paying higher prices for implements than are paid in the United States, and that these implements are sold for abroad. I say that the government is violating its duty in not having brought down to parliament direct and positive information on this subject, and I say that if the claims that are made are true there ought to be a remedy, and I want to know from the government whether they believe them to be true or not, and if they say they do not know, I ask whether they have taken any means to know, and if they say that these claims are not true, I ask upon what evidence they made that assertion, and whether they propose to do in the premises."

CANADA IS INDEPENDENT.

Today Canada is able to stand alone, she is not guided by the conditions that existed in 1860. We are self-reliant, we are strong, we are an able people in this western country. Do we want to be absorbed into the United States, or do we want to have our trade conditions upon one again; do we want the aspirations of our forefathers to be crushed by a domination of Canadians rudely set aside? I think that we want our trade east and west, that we want to develop our own country, that we want to bring manufacturers into this country. Some of the best friends that I have in this country today are people from the United States of America, that I firmly believe that there is no better class of citizen on the face of God's earth for settlement of this western country of ours than the American settler. I believe it to be an insult to every American in this country to suppose for one instant that he comes out with the avowed intention of spying upon our land that he may steal it for the country from which he came.

AN ULTIMOR MOTIVE.

You will observe that there is some slight reason at least for suspecting that President Taft is desirous that we should not get along with our trade relations with Great Britain and the empire, and these other men to whom I have referred, and who have been more frank in their expressions, have some idea that reciprocity with Canada at this time means something more than commercial union.

I believe that the people of Canada are true to Canada, and it is their ambition to build up through the length and breadth of this fair dominion a country which would preserve and add to its dignity as one of the nations supporting the British crown, and that we men in Canada today who are worthy of Canadian citizenship are not ashamed of loyal devotion to our sovereign, the King; and I do not believe there is a man in this audience who is in accord with this prime minister who is this morning in the British House of Commons, and who is the real sentiment of the Canadian people. It is not true to the traditions of our forefathers, to the brave Americans who have become Canadians, and I believe that when the British empire is at war Canada will maintain the important position in that empire which she now holds, and Canada's sons will go forth to battle as they have done before in support of the Union Jack.

WHAT R. L. BORDEN SAID.

In the house of commons at Ottawa and in his trip through western Canada R. L. Borden distinctly told the people of this country that our Conservative party had pledged to the building of the Hudson Bay railway since 1896, and promised to this country that in lieu of manufacturing goods the road would be immediately commenced. You, the farmers of western Canada, want that road built. You have been struggling with it from year to year. R. L. Borden and the Conservative party a chance to build it for you. There is another matter of importance to the farmers of western Canada, and that is the removal of the tariff. Mr. Borden shows himself to be conclusively a friend to the west. You are all aware that in the present termination of the tariff on feeders, ranging from 10 to 25 per cent, goes out. Mr. Borden promises the western farmer that if he be given the reins of government the government will control and operate these terminal elevators under the supervision of an independent commission.

CONSTITUTIONAL MATTERS.

You have heard that the premier of this province has been negotiating with Sir Wilfrid Laurier concerning the return to us of our timber lands, and the purchase of the Hudson Bay railway. You have had promises with regard to the Hudson Bay railway for fifteen years. I do not know whether it will be put into this promise. Remember you have not got them as yet—there is merely some negotiation going on concerning them. When we read the report of the interview with Premier Sifton my thoughts naturally turned to a gentleman whom many of you know, the Hon. Sir James Smith, and I wondered in a quiet, friendly, humorous way just how he would manage to smoothly tell you that the west would let the government be the friend of the farmer, which is about to give you public domain, when he has for the last five years so eloquently and earnestly argued that the people of this province were infinitely better off with a cash subsidy from the Dominion government than with the control of their own public domain.

LIST YOUR PROPERTY

TO-DAY, and get Results

If you have something that is good value, do not fail to list it. Now, let us see what the result is. The west will let the government be the friend of the farmer, which is about to give you public domain, when he has for the last five years so eloquently and earnestly argued that the people of this province were infinitely better off with a cash subsidy from the Dominion government than with the control of their own public domain.

We have no subdivision or special interest of our own, consequently we can do full justice to any listings left in our hands, no matter in what locality. We can get you a loan, buy your property, insure your property, insure your life, insure your business, insure your accident, employers' liability, or casualty of any kind; can draw out contracts and conveyances, in short, can be useful to you in a business transaction of almost any kind.

WM. ROBERTSON, MANAGER - RED DEER

Reasonable Sporting Supplies

We welcome the advent of another shooting season, and are as usual well prepared to take care of the business it brings.

As a Leader for $25

We are offering the same splendid "Pump" Gun that we had last year, made by the National Arms Co. We bought a few of these last season, we patterned them here before we sold them, and then confidently recommended them to our customers. They made good in the field last fall and as a result we doubled our order this year. The price puts them within everyone's reach. $25.00.

SINGLE SHOT GUNS

No. 100 Our Boys' Special

12 gauge, automatic extractor, 30 inch special steel barrel, choke bored, walnut stock with pistol grip and rubber butt plate, forearm attached to barrel and fitted with metal point. Top lever, rebounding lock, case hardened, frame nicely finished throughout, weight 6½ to 6½ pounds. PRICE $9.00

No. 102 Cannon Breech

12 gauge, automatic ejector, blued steel barrel, choke bored for nitro powder, re-inforced breech and extra heavy lug forged from one solid piece of nitro steel. Plain, oil finished walnut stock, half pistol grip, corrugated rubber butt plate, nickel plated mountings, top snap, rebounding hammer, solid plunger, metal joint folding flush key, take down. This is the best gun we have ever seen for the price, and is imported by us direct from the maker. We have sold them for some years and have been commended by the purchasers on their shooting qualities. PRICE each $12.50

REPEATING SHOT GUNS

Our Leader, As Advertised Above

This is its second year in this district and its good record last season encouraged us to double our order for this year. Price remains unchanged at $25.00

The Winchester "Take Down"

Repeating shotgun is the popular Winchester Model 1897, with a strong, simple, serviceable and handy take-down system applied to it. This gun can be taken apart and put together as easily and quickly as a double barrel shotgun, and can be carried in a Victoria case, packed in a trunk or rolled up in camp bedding. The take-down system used on this gun is similar to the one used on Winchester "take-down" rifles, and which thorough and extensive trials have demonstrated to be an excellent and handy device. The interrupted screw system—a feature found exclusively in Winchester "take-down" rifles—is used on the "take-down" shotgun. This permits the removal of the barrel from the receiver by a one-quarter turn. When taken apart, the stock and action of the gun remain in one piece, and the barrel, magazine, and action slide in another, the last named parts being held together at the breech end by a ring, called the receiver extension. 12 ga., 30in. barrels. PRICE $28.00

The Stevens Hammerless Repeating Shotgun No. 520

Barrel, Stevens compressed forged steel. The barrel used in the manufacture of this gun is first compressed and then forged into shape, thus making it as strong as it is possible to make a shotgun barrel. It is finished in blued oxide which gives it a beautiful and lasting appearance. The receiver is a solid Drop forging, and in the manipulation of the gun none of the interior parts protrude that usually interfere with the pleasure and safety of shooting a repeating shotgun. This is one of the most valuable features. It has the same blued oxide finish as the barrel. The stock and action of the gun are extra long and add strength to a stock at its weakest point. Shells are ejected from the side which is the most popular method in use, as the shells are ejected away from the shooter. Owing to the simplicity of the take-down, this gun can be taken down and put together quicker than any other repeating shotgun. Time, eight seconds. An examination of this feature will show at a glance its lasting qualities and large wearing surfaces. Ammunition, any standard shell up to 2½ inches in length. 12 ga. only, 30in. barrels. Price $28

DOUBLE-BARRELED HAMMER GUNS

No. 104—Our interchangeable machine made 12 ga. shot gun, bar action, rebounding locks, top snap, circular hammer, pistol extension rib, case hardened mountings, full checked pistol grip stock and fore-end, steel butt plate, left barrel choke bored, weight seven and a half to eight and a quarter pounds. Price $10

No. 105. Interchangeable Machine Made 12 ga. gun with rebounding locks, top snap, circular hammers, matted extension rib, case hardened mountings, left barrel choke bored, and barrel stump. "Five Dangerous Patterns" and "Warrented Government Test". Weight 7½ to 8½ lbs. Price $15.00

No. 25 Leader Grade.

The Tobin hammer gun, constructed on the same action and frame model of the "Simplex" hammerless pattern, with the same giant cross bolt fastening and compensating fore-end joint, easily makes it the superior of any hammer gun ever put on the market. For the shooter who requires the dependable kind that can be relied upon where a gun means business, the Leader grade hammer gun stands first choice. Stocks—Selected walnut, half pistol grip. Length 14½, drop 2½ to 3½ inches. Barrels—"Trojan" Nitro Steel. 12 gauge, 30 and 32 inch. Weight 7 to 8 lbs. Price $25.00

DOUBLE-BARREL HAMMERLESS SHOT GUNS

No. 40 Standard Grade

The Standard is a plain, well finished gun with workmanship and quality that distinguishes it as a fire arm in comparison with any arm of the hammerless gun type made. The fitting of the gun is unequalled by any other make within reasonable limits of the price, at which we are able to offer it. Stocks—Plain dark imported and selected walnut, full pistol grip. Length 14½, drop 2½ to 3½ inches. Barrels—"Trojan" Nitro Steel. 12 gauge, 28, 30, 32 inch, 16 gauge, 26 and 28 inch. Weight 12 gauge 6½ to 8½ lbs.; 16 gauge, 6 to 7 lbs. Price $35.00

Ammunition: On the 8th inst we took into stock 13,000 field loads of Eley's Cartridges and 34,500 loads of the Dominion Cartridge Co.'s Sovereign loaded shells. The latter are all loaded with Dupont Smokeless powder and have been tried and tested from ocean to ocean. We guarantee them all to be fresh loads and recommend them to our customers. We have used thousands of them, ourselves with the utmost satisfaction and confidently sell them as the best goods for the money on the market.

SMITH and GAETZ, "Headquarters for Sporting Goods"

No. 55 Black Diamond Grade

The Black Diamond grade is a medium price gun with all the fine appearance and finish combined with good sound workmanship that go to make this model one of our most attractive sellers. Stocks—Dark selected imported walnut stocks, full pistol grip. Length 14½, 30 2½ to 3½ inches. Barrels—"Trojan" Nitro Steel. 12 gauge, 28, 30 32 inch, 10 gauge 20 to 28 inch. Weight, 12 gauge, 6½ to 8½ lbs.; 10 gauge, 6½ to 7½ lbs. Price $40.00. Same as above with automatic ejector $45.00.

No. 113—Parker Bros. 12 ga., Vulcan Steel Barrels

American walnut oil finished stock, checked pistol grip, rubber caped butt, rubber butt plate, checked. Matted rib. These guns are so well known here that we need not say much about them, but if you call at our store we can give you the names of a number of local people who have purchased them from us, and are enthusiastic over their shooting qualities. Price $55.00.

No. 114—Exactly the same gun as No. 113, excepting that this is an automatic ejector. Price $55.00

We shall be glad to pattern these last two lines for any non-resident prospective buyer, and send same to his address.

RIFLES

No. 115 Stevens "Little Scout"

22 Cal., shoots with wonderful accuracy. All parts drop forged, machine made, interchangeable, shoots B.B. caps, 22 short, long or long rifle. Weight 2½ lbs., length of barrel 18 inches. Price $55.00.

No. 116 Remington Take Down

22 cal., de-carbonized steel barrel, accurately bored and rifled, case-hardened frame, rubber butt plate, checked. Matted rib. These guns are so well known here that we need not say much about them, but if you call at our store we can give you the names of a number of local people who have purchased them from us, and are enthusiastic over their shooting qualities. Price $55.00.

No. 117 Stevens Crack Shot

Take down, 22 cal., 20 inch half octagon barrel, has automatic safety, making accidental discharge impossible. Chambered to shoot BB caps 22 short, 22 long and 22 long rifle. Price $55.00.

No. 118 Winchester Thumb Trigger

Single shot take down, 22 calibre, 18 inch round barrel, bolt action. Push trigger located on upper side of grip, operates by pressing thumb with the thumb, rebounding lock. Polished straight grip stocks 18½ inches long, with checked rubber butt plate attached with fancy screws, open front and rear sight, chambered to shoot BB caps, 22 short, and 22 long rim fire cartridges. Price $30.00.

No. 119 Winchester Model 1902

Single shot, 22 calibre, 18 inch round barrel, bolt action, plain trigger, rebounding lock, 18 inch highly polished straight grip stock with blued steel butt plate open front and peep rear sights. Chambered to shoot BB caps, 22 short and 22 long rim fire cartridges. Price $30.00.

No. 121 Stevens Visible Loading Repeater 22 calibre, 20 inch round barrel, varnished stock and slide handle, case hardened frame, rubber butt plate, checked. Matted rib. These guns are so well known here that we need not say much about them, but if you call at our store we can give you the names of a number of local people who have purchased them from us, and are enthusiastic over their shooting qualities. Price $55.00.

No. 122—Remington, 22 calibre, hammerless, take down. Solid breech 22 inch barrel. A very handsome repeater adapted to 22 short, long and long rifle. Magazine hold 14 shot, 11 long or 10 long rifle cartridges. Price $30.00.

No. 123—Savage hammerless, 22 cal. with straight stock and shotgun butt. This rifle has the "solid top" and is fitted with a "safely" on top of frame. All parts are interchangeable, and it shoots all the sizes of 22 ammunition. Price $35.00.

In addition to the above rifles we carry Winchester and Savage in 30-30, 32 and 303 calibres, and shall be pleased to quote, upon request.

Miss Michener will reopen her music class on Monday next, Aug. 28th. Pupils starting the first week can secure the most suitable hours.

HOME PICTURES

You and I and all of us would give a good deal for something more substantial than mental pictures of our youthful days. Wouldn't it be fun just to see how we looked when we were little chaps down on the farm. It was not possible those days but is in these days, if you only have a Kodak or a Brownie. The Kodak system of daylight photography opens up wonderful possibilities for keeping a record of the home life all the year round.

Better not delay but get that Kodak and take those pictures of your home while the grass and lawn are green and the leaves still here.

Drop in and we will show you all about the Eastman line of Kodaks, Folding Brownies and Brownie Cameras.

Kodaks from - $5 to $25
Folding Brownies from $5 to $12
Brownies from - $1 to $4

M. H. Kahler left yesterday for Gadsby, where he will open a watch-making and jewelry business for himself. Mr. Kahler has been employed by H. J. Snell for about three months, and made many friends while in Red Deer.

The Wetaskiwin Band are not in favor of playing again for the possession of the Piper Cup. The Grand Orange Lodge have not yet decided as to what will be done with the trophy, although our boys are anxious to get it done with.

The remains of Matthew Edward Gilmore, the young man who died suddenly last week, were interred in the cemetery on Sunday. The Rev. Robt. Pearson officiated, and the pallbearers were friends of the deceased who came up from Calgary.

J. M. Gibbon, of the C.P.R. traffic department, Leduc, and J. H. Walker, of Somers, representing several agricultural journals in England, spent yesterday at Red Deer, looking into farming conditions at first hand. Both gentlemen said that they were impressed with the number of fine homes and gardens and lawns in Red Deer.

V. B. Freytag is taking pleasure these days in showing to visitors the first hides tanned by the Freytag Tanning Co. at North Red Deer.

Freytag has a bunch of beautiful skin-glossy, thick, beautifully marked and beautifully finished. They are a treat to any interested in beautiful things and high class work. Mr. Freytag is certainly an expert in his business.
